Czech architecture

Czech architecture is associated with diversity.
We can find different artistic styles all around us
- from Gothic, Baroque, ending with Cubism...

Diverse architecture is something unheard, right?

House of the Black Mother of God - a masterpiece Czech cubist architecture.

Powder Gate - late Gothic gate urban

Matyášova brána - gate between the first and second courtyard of Prague Castle in Prague.

National Museum in Prague

City Representative House - one of the most famous Art Nouveau buildings in Prague

Old Town Square in Prague

Historic city square in the Old Town of Prague, Czech Republic.

Jan Hus Monument depicting the victory of Hussite warriors and Protestants who were forced to emigrate 200 years after Jan Hus

Kostel Panny Marie před Týnem

The narrowest street in Prague

Narrow stairs pressed between 2 buildings located on U Lužického semináře,
118 00 Malá Strana

This street is nice :)

Vinárna Čertovka

A traffic light was placed there because street is so narrow that it causes problems when two people have to pass each other there.

The street is 50
cm wide

Wall John Lennon

★ A walk Velkopřevorské nám., 118
00 Malá Strana, Czech Republic filled with graffiti inspired by John Lennon.

Tourists also often cover the plate vinyl with various stickers.

The wall is constantly changing, and Lennon's original portrait has been painted over under layers of new paint.

Trdelniki - a sweet, cult delicacy in Czech Republic

- ❖ Trdelnik is a tasty cake sprinkled with sugar, originating from Czech cuisine - in Prague you can find it almost everywhere, even though it is actually a dessert from Slovakia.
- ❖ It is served in many different ways: with various flavors of ice cream, whipped cream, fruit, chocolate icing, etc.

Tasty ^^

Morawski Kras, most beautiful places that are definitely worth visiting in the Czech Republic

Kras Morawski is the largest and most important natural area in the Czech Republic. Located north of Brno, part of the Drahanska Upland.

Punkva Caves

IMPORTANT INFORMATION BEFORE YOU GO THERE:

- It's about 8 degrees inside the Punkevní Caves, so it's worth taking a warmer jacket.
- The tour takes place only with a guide in
- language Czech
- You're not allowed to touch anything there
- At the end there is a boat ride, where electronics can't be used

Amazing paint, right?

Famous Czech artists

David Černý

A Czech sculptor who ironically shows that an artist has every right to comment on the world around him.

This guy just has imagination...

Ignorant politicians - the sculpture was created on the occasion of Czech Republic's accession to European Union.

Horse in the Lucerne Palace - the sculpture depicts the patron saint of the Czech Republic, Saint. Wacław sitting on a dead, upside-down horse.

Lilith - icon of feminism. A sculpture weighing 35 tons. Stainless steel construction. It was established in 2022.

Popular souvenirs worth bringing from the Czech Republic

Waffles Fidorki

Postcard

Fridge magnet

Kofola - no alcoholic cola drink. It has a herbal flavor.

It's worth buying for me too - I'll be in every store!
